Athletics for all
Did you know?

- Emory had 2 NCAA Division III National Champions in 2013-2014? Can anyone name them?
  - Women’s Swimming and Diving
  - Women’s Tennis

- Emory also had an NCAA Division III National Runner-Up, which sport?
  - Baseball
Emory also had 6 teams that were UAA conference champions in 2013-2014:

- Women’s Swimming and Diving
- Men’s Swimming and Diving
- Women’s Tennis
- Softball
- Baseball
- Golf

These successes led to a 6th place finish for Emory in the Director’s cup, which is a measure of overall athletic success.
Did you know?

- Emory’s athletes excel not only in their sport but also academically.

- In 2013-2014 Emory had 10 students awarded NCAA postgraduate scholarships which ties Stanford for the most scholars in a single year.
  - Highly competitive
  - Compete against athletes from all 3 divisions of the NCAA
  - Based on Athletic Achievement, Scholarship and Community Service.
NCAA Postgraduate Scholars

Swimming
- Kylie McKenzie
- Sadie Nennig
- Matt O’Brien
- Jake Stephens

Track & Field
- Morgan Monroe

Softball
- Claire Bailey
- Megan Light
- Amanda Kardys

Soccer
- Lauren Gorodetsky
- Kelly Costopoulos
Athletics to Build Community

- Emory offers great athletics but few in the community know about them.
- Goal of this year is for athletes to make personal connections to encourage attendance at games.
- Athletics and Recreation Committee is to assist with development of ways to make the Emory community aware of athletic events and encourage attendance as a way of building community feeling.
- We would appreciate thoughts from the Senate on how to encourage attendance at Athletic events.
Other initiatives for ARC

- Reorganization of Athletics and Recreation
  - Another visit from the consultants that developed the initial framework for Health and Wellness through Physical Activity (Play Emory and Recreation)
  - Determine the most effective home for HWPA/Recreation
  - Suggestions for leadership and organization
  - Prioritization of space needs
- Anti-Hazing Coalition co-chaired by Tim Downes and Andy Wilson